For the prevention and cure o
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of person can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions
Lowness of spirits
Loss of appetite	Indigestion
Impurity of b'ood	Melancholy
Hysteric'l affection	Gout in the stomach
Inward weaknesses	Pains in the limbs
and debility	Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes on the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

☞ At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the numerous importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

FRIDAY, MARCH 20 1818.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

Thursday, March 19, 1818.

Yesterday the house of representatives took again into consideration, in a committee of the whole, the unfinished business of the day before, which related to the acts heretofore passed to enforce the observance of our neutral relations. As this was the only topic of Tuesday's proceedings which promised to be productive of interesting matter, and on that day was touched upon only on some dull points of detail, while the residue of it was postponed to yesterday, I purposely reserved it to take the whole together in one sweep of view, which I was the rather disposed to do, as it was expected that Mr. Clay would take that opportunity of redeeming the pledge he had given of bringing forward the affairs of the Patriots of South America.

The specific object of Mr. Clay, on this occasion, was the repeal of the act of 1817, which forbids the fitting out of armed vessels in American ports for the use of foreigners. Of this act he thought it might be sufficient to say that it was never warranted by a strict observance of our neutral duties, that it was unnecessary, and that it ought not to be permitted to remain. He confessed that he disliked the origin of the act. It was, he said, the result of incessant teazing on the part of certain foreign ministers.—Yet he allowed that if circumstances really rendered it necessary it ought to be retained. He did not, however, believe that to be the case, as the old act of 1794, still in existence, superseded all such necessity and rendered that of 1817 a mere act of superfluous legislation. It was on that ground, he observed, that, when under discussion in the last session he had opposed its passage—on which occasion he was proud to say that he was joined by sixty-two honorable members, most of them from the western states, whose political sentiments generally concurred with his own, all of whom voted against the bill. In consonance with their opinions on the subject in question, were those of the people in general:—the public sentiment therefore had pronounced its doom. The whole world saw the matter in the same light, and concurred in censuring that act as mischievous and unnecessary—and nothing remained to be done but to repeal it as soon as possible. In order to impress the house with a sense of the great injury which he ascribed to this country as perpetrating upon the cause of the South American Patriots, he stated, upon the authority of one of our naval commanders who gave him the information, that if it had not been for the supplies permitted from this country through the Havanna Gen. Morillo, the commander of Ferdinand's forces, could not have supported his army.

Mr. Clay then adverted with censure to the severity exercised towards certain persons sailing under the Patriot flag, at the instance of foreign ministers, and observed that it was not more than five days since some individuals who had been tried at Boston for piracy, were here again before the supreme court, where not only the state attorney of Massachusetts but the attorney general of the U. States appeared against them, and certain foreign ministers were there also, to see that those officers did their duty. To the honor of the attorney general, however, Mr. Clay stated that that gentleman had made some suggestions favorable to those individuals. As to the act of 1797, it was, he said, given up on all sides—while that of 1817 was unnecessary because the cases for which it provided were sufficiently covered by that of 1794.

Mr. Forsyth opposed Mr. Clay, denying that the act of 1817 was condemned by the public sentiment, which, on the contrary, ran highly in its favor. He contradicted also Mr. Clay's assertion that the passage of the act had been opposed by sixty-two western members.—The truth, he said, was, that the act passed by a very large majority, (I think he said two to one) and the senate were but little short of unanimous in its favor.—As to the suggestion that it originated in the teazing of foreign ministers, Mr. Forsyth stated that representations had been made to government, not in a teazing way however, but in the usual manner of performing the duty of a foreign minister, of acts of violence so outrageous and flagrant that all the foreign ministers near our government united in complaining loudly of the depredations committed on the commerce of their respective nations. It therefore became the duty of the president to remunerate the losers, and to take the most effectual means to prevent a repetition of the outrages. He saw that the laws were insufficient, and he recommended to congress to adopt such means as they should think fit for the purpose; and they responded by the act now in contemplation. Was there any thing objectionable in the president's doing this? No—not even to the most scrupulous. The honorable speaker had complained that the operations of that law was extended beyond the jurisdiction of the United States. This, Mr. Forsyth said, was indispensably necessary. The United States were responsible to the nations injured, and their citizens were punishable for the offence; it could not then be thought a hardship to make those who were just objects of suspicion give security not to violate the laws and thereby implicate the country. If either in or out of our jurisdiction a French or English vessel were taken by an American vessel and American mariners, the United States were obliged to make restitution. Was it not right then to take security against such dangerous excesses?

Mr. Robertson spoke in favour of Mr. Clay's proposition, and ascribed the representations of foreign ministers to the aversion of European sovereigns to the liberation of the Patriots.

Mr. Lowndes denied the act of 1817 being passed at the instigation of any foreign ministers—The urgency of circumstances demanded it, as long as we proposed neutrality we were bound faithfully to observe it. There was nothing new either, in the law, since even in time of war privateers were never allowed to sail without giving security for their conduct. The United States being responsible for any mischief done, was of itself sufficient reason for exacting security—and against these potent reasons there was no just objection to oppose since to the honest merchant giving security could be no hardship or inconvenience.

Mr. Clay made a short reply in which he applauded the conduct of the British Government which while it forbad its subjects from engaging with the Patriots exacted no security so that numbers had joined the Patriot standard.

Mr. Tucker said a few words, and Gen. S. Smith spoke at some length, and gave such sound reasons fortified by reference to a multitude of plain matters of fact that it was impossible to resist the impression.

The question being put on Mr. Clays proposition, the object of which was to retain the act of 1794, to repeal that of 1797, and to repeal some part of the act of 1817, it was negatived by 75 to 68.

Mr. Clay then moved to amend the bill by adding a new section, an account of which will come better under the next report I give you, as committee rose & the house adjourned before any thing was done upon it.

Mr. Editor,

In looking over the Gazette of the 11th, and observing the continuation of Z's communication, I thought I would propose to him a few observations upon the religious impressions of Socrates. He appears to be of the opinion that Socrates had the outward works of nature and his own reason only to guide him in his reflections upon that all important subject. It is my opinion that Socrates and the psalmist had the same spiritual guide:—for, according to the opinion of the apostle John, the true light enlightens every man that cometh into the world. And again, as saith the blessed Redeemer, no man knoweth the father but the son, and he to whom the son doth reveal him:—consequently Socrates could only have known God through the same spirit by which Jesus was actuated. These observations are not made as entering the lists as a disputant, but only to invite serious reflections, and, the most of all, other interesting investigations; because I do most assuredly believe that all heathens might have found the same guide as Socrates did, and all might, in all times, have the same spiritual guide that the psalmist had if they would seek for it in themselves, for "whatsoever is known of God is made manifest in man" and "they that seek shall find"

FROM THE MEDITERRANEAN.

Captain Frazier, of the Brig Fox, arrived at this port on Sunday evening last from Trieste, states, that on the 12th February, the Rock of Gibraltar E. E. N. distant two or three leagues, was fired at from a frigate—instantly took in all our light sails, hauled the courses up, and backed the maintopsail; whilst lying in that situation, was fired at three or four different times from the frigate, without shewing colors, (though the Fox's flag was flying sometime before she was fired at) each shot passing near us: not being able to account for such conduct, we set all sail, and stood on our course—the frigate then for the first time shewed Portuguese colors and made all sail in pursuit of us, still keeping up a fire from her bow chasers—one shot went through the Fox's main-top gallant sail—at 4 P. M. finding the Fox outsailed him, wore round hauled his wind, and stood in towards Gibraltar Bay.

LATEST FROM THE PATRIOTS.

A commercial friend has politely furnished us with the following extract of a letter from St. Thomas, dated 28th Feb. received by the schooner Decatur, captain Bell:

"Perhaps the following information may be interesting to you and your friends. It comes in such a manner as to put its truth beyond a doubt. I copy it from the original letter.

"Extract of a letter received here from Porto Cabello, dated Feb. 19.

"Bolivar is at Hoyazzo, where Leterra defeated Sazazzo—he has 12 pieces of artillery and 3000 men. A few days ago his cavalry surprised the Royalists, and cut to pieces the fine regiment of Huzzars of Ferdinand the 7th—these were about 500 men. The advanced piquetts of the Royalists have also been defeated in some late attacks by the cavalry of the Patriots, which is very formidable, and has formed a junction with Bolivar. Morillo has advanced from Calabozo to join the army. Much is expected from his presence, and should the Patriots risk a general engagement, Morillo no doubt will succeed—otherwise it is very doubtful. By this you will perceive Bolivar is advancing, and Morillo is on the defensive. Both main armies are not one day's march from each other; but the vast superiority of the Patriot cavalry shields their army from Morillo's infantry. We look every hour for some decisive attack from one side or the other. The fact is, Morillo is surrounded, and unless by some desperate attack on his part, it will be difficult for him to escape."

From the Baltimore Federal Republican.

The documents respecting our relations with Spain, are now in a course of publication, and are very voluminous.—One paper only has been published, by which it would appear that a proposition has been submitted on the part of the Spanish court, to leave all questions in controversy either to the decision of G. Britain, or any of the European powers. This proposition is rejected by our own government, first, because Great Britain herself is supposed to have an eye to the seizure of the Floridas, which would disable her from acting the part of a disinterested umpire, on a point where those provinces are affected by the decision.—Our own government further reject the proposition of submitting the question to the decision of any European power, because they are now confederated for one purpose, and the opinion of one is supposed to be the opinion of all. They avow that they have taken a temporary possession of Amelia Island only, which they are ready to surrender as soon as all subjects in controversy are brought to an amicable issue. They state that they have made the seizure for the purposes avowed by the committee on the floor of the house of representatives, viz. to prevent smuggling and piracy: it is further stated that this temporary possession of Amelia, is in fact an act of kindness to his catholic majesty, since he is not capable of holding the possession himself—another question may be made; if our taking possession of Amelia Island for the purpose avowed by our government, can be considered as an act of hostility towards Spain, would not this hostility be founded on the supposition that the Spanish monarch is capable of holding possession of that island? If this be the case, is not the Spanish monarch liable to make good from the Spanish treasury all the losses and damages which our countrymen have suffered by the depredations of the former governor of that place? If Don Onis does not accede to this proposition, is he prepared to maintain another, that the rulers of his master's foreign territories or provinces are authorized to plunder American property for which he is not responsible? Is he prepared to say that this power is made with the sanction of the Spanish government? Undoubtedly he is not. Then this brings the question to the point from whence we set out. Was this seizure under such circumstances, an hostile act against the Spanish monarch?—It cannot be considered in this point of view, unless Ferdinand is prepared to indemnify our citizens for all the losses they have suffered by commodore Aury and his patriots. But if the question is considered in another point of view, that com. Aury acted with the advice, concurrence and sanction of the patriots of South America, the same specific objections occur as in the case of Ferdinand, and whether that province is claimed by the one, or by the other, we think our government was clearly right in taking possession.

We wait, and with some impatience, the publication of this correspondence, because it is high time that congress should know the precise state of our negociations with Spain. From some observations and remarks which have been made by members on the floor of the house of representatives, we should be led to believe that we were on the eve of a Spanish war, though it is equally fair to state that these remarks were made before a call for the documents, and consequently before the documents were read. This doctrine of a Spanish war does not however seem to receive much countenance from the cabinet, if a conclusion may be drawn from any evidence on that subject that has yet been presented to the public.

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Tuesday, March 17.

Mr. Poindexter, from the Committee of Private Land Claims, reported a bill authorising the renewal of a land warrant lost by General Moses Porter; which bill was twice read, and ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

Mr. M'Lane, from the Committee of Commerce and Manufactures, made an unfavorable report on the petition of Eleazer Nickerson, which was read and concurred in.

The bill authorizing the election of a Delegate from the territory of Michigan, was read the second time, and (after an ineffectual attempt by Mr. Taylor to send it to a committee of the whole) it was ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

The bill from the Senate respecting certain reservations of land in Ohio, set apart by the original contract for the support of religion—and the bill from the Senate to allow additional salary and clerk hire to the surveyor of the Illinois and Missouri territories, were severally twice read and referred.

The joint resolution from the Senate, directing the publication and distribution of the Journal, &c. of the convention which formed the constitution, was read, the third time as amended by this House, passed, and returned to the Senate, for concurrence in the amendments.

The House then, on motion of Mr. Taylor, proceeded to consider the amendment to the rules and orders of the house, submitted by him on the 10th inst.

Mr. Taylor explained the advantages which he conceived would result to the business of legislation by the adoption of this rule—the particulars in which it differed from a similar proposition offered at a former session by Mr. Hopkinson, its exemption from the objectionable features of the former proposition, &c.

Mr. Hopkinson supported the proposition, and briefly recapitulated the unnecessary repetition of labors of committees, &c. which it would prevent, the expedition which it would produce in acting on the public business, &c.

The proposition was then agreed to, without a division, as follows:

"After six days from the commencement of a second or a subsequent session of any Congress, all bills, resolutions, and reports which originated in the house, and at the close of the next preceding session remained undetermined, shall be resumed and acted on in the same manner as if an adjournment had not taken place."

On motion of Mr. Forsyth,

Resolved that the committee on the judiciary be instructed to enquire into the expediency of altering so much of the laws now in force for regulating the territorial governments of the United States, as requires a freehold property in the territories respectively, as a qualification for office.

Mr. Desha offered the following resolution, which was agreed to:

Resolved, that the report of the committee on public expenditures, on the memorials and accounts of Col. James Thomas, Quarter Master General, read Feb. 15, 1817, and laid upon the table, be referred to the Attorney General of the United States.

On motion of Mr. Merrill, the committee on post offices were instructed to enquire into the expediency of increasing the compensation of the Postmaster at Bennington, Vermont.

The bill making an appropriation for the erection of a jail, and authorizing the [illegible] court to erect, at their own expense, a court house &c. in the County of Alexandria, passed through a committee of the whole, Mr. Basset in the chair, and was reported without amendment.

On the question of ordering the bill to be engrossed, some debate arose, in which Messrs. Herbert, Forsyth, Cobb, and Pindall advocated the appropriation, and Messrs. Beacher, Fearhard, and Livermore opposed it, on different grounds.

Mr. Linn moved to strike out the first section, (making the appropriation for the jail,) which was agreed to—and the remaining sections, after some discussion, were, with the addition of an enacting clause, ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

The bill for the relief of Abraham Byington, and the bill for the relief of Purley Keyes and Jason Fairbanks, severally passed through committees of the whole, and were ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

The House went into committee on the bill providing for the due execution of the laws of the United States in the state of Mississippi.

Some conversation took place on the amount of compensation proper to be allowed to the District Judge to be created in the State—Mr. Poindexter moved and advocated the sum of two thousand dollars, in which he was supported by Mr. Clay, a liberal allowance being contended for on the ground of the peculiar and burthensome duties to be performed, and the sacrifices to be made by the district judge, there acting also as circuit judge.

The motion to fill the blank with two thousand dollars was carried, 57 to 55.

Mr. Poindexter then moved a salary of 500 dollars to the United States attorney, in the new state, instead of 200 dollars, which has been reported by the judiciary committee, which motion was disagreed to—also, successive motions to insert 400 and 300 dollars.

The committee then rose, and the House taking up the amendments, the sum of 2000 dollars, inserted as the salary of the judge, was after some discussion, concurred in, 64 to 48, and the bill ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

The house then went into committee on the bill to suspend the act of limitations, so far as regards certain loan office and final settlement certificates, which, having received sundry amendments, was reported to the House, the amendments concurred in, and the bill ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

OUR NEUTRAL RELATIONS.

The House then resolved itself into a committee of the whole, Mr. Smith of Md. in the chair, on the bill in addition to "an act for the punishment of certain crimes against the United States," and to repeal the acts therein mentioned; (to incorporate into one act, with some amendments, the several laws heretofore passed to enforce the neutral obligations of the U. States.)

The committee spent two hours very busily in discussing the details of this bill, and motions to alter and modify them, (which will be more particularly noticed hereafter;) when a little after five o'clock the committee rose, reported progress, and obtained leave to sit again; and

The House adjourned.

MARCH 14, 1818.

An act establishing the salaries of the officers of the corporation for the year 1818, was read a third time and passed.

The committee to whom the subject was referred, reported an act entitled an act to amend an act entitled an act to establish a watch, and laying a tax for paying the same, which was read a first and second time and ordered to lie on the table.

A communication from the mayor was received, accompanied by the act entitled an act regulating the market, which was returned with objections which the council agreed to consider. On motion to amend the bill, it was decided in the negative: on motion to adhere to the bill, it was decided in the negative, and the bill was lost.

Leave was granted to bring in a bill to amend an act entitled an act reducing into one the several acts for the regulation of the market, which was read a first and second time, and on motion was read a third time and passed.

Ordered, That the following resolution, passed on the 9th inst. be and the same is hereby revoked: "Resolved, That in future all orders and resolutions passed by council be signed by the president of council and be presented to the mayor for his concurrence."

Resolved, That the council proceed to elect the officers of the corporation.

George Coryell was duly elected superintendent of police.

Robert Brocket was duly elected street commissioner.

Alexander Williams was unanimously elected superintendent of the watch.

William Davis, James Avery, John Wiggs, Elijah Davis, William Dulany, Gerard Arnold, Alex. Williams, Benjamin Jefferson and John Green were duly elected watchmen.

Peter Rhodes was duly elected keeper of the powder house.

Thos. Parsons was duly elected clerk of the market.

Thomas Semmes was duly elected physician of the poor and work house.

Reuben Johnston, Thomas Jacobs, Amos Alexander and Andrew Flemming were duly elected trustees of the poor and work house.

David Black and Loudon Campbell were duly elected corners of wood and measurers of lumber.

Anthony Crease was unanimously elected inspector of the house of industry in the room of Jonathan Swift, resigned.

Gustavus A. Brown was duly elected physician of the vaccine institution.

Ordered, That the street commissioner do cause Oronoko street, from Washington to St. Asaph street, to be regulated so as to reduce it to the proper level, provided the expense does not exceed 400 dollars, to be charged to the third ward.

Ordered, That J. W. Beadle, under the direction of the street commissioner, be permitted to fix the side stones, and pave the gutter on his property on Princess street, and that he be authorised to deduct the amount from his taxes when ever the street is paved.

AN ACT

To repeal an act entitled an act transferring the duties of the street commissioner to the superintendent of police and for other purposes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Common Council of Alexandria, That so much of the act passed on the 30th March, 1808, entitled "An act transferring the duties of the street commissioner to the superintendent of police, and for other purposes," as requires the duties of street commissioner to be performed by the superintendent of police shall be and the same is hereby repealed, and that the Common Council shall from time to time appoint a fit and proper person street commissoner, who shall hold his office during the pleasure of the Common Council, and who shall perform the duties which are required of the street commissioner by the 12th section of an act of the mayor and commonalty passed on the 5th of February, 1800, entitled "An act for raising a revenue, appointing commissioners of the streets, and declaring their duties, and directing the manner of paving the streets."

Section 2. And be it further enacted, That the street commissioner, for the services to be performed by him, shall receive annually two hundred and fifty dollars, to be paid quarterly.

Section 3. And be it further enacted, That the superintendent of police shall continue to perform all the duties which have been heretofore required of him except those relating to the regulating and paving streets, and shall also perform the duties which, by the 1st section of an act entitled an act for appointing a high constable and two assistant constables for the purpose of detecting offences against the several laws of the corporation, passed 4th day of May, 18[illegible], are required to be performed by the high constable.

Section 4. And be it further enacted, That so much of the said act for appointing a high constable, &c. as requires the appointment of a high constable, shall be and the same is hereby repealed.

Section 5. And be it further enacted, That the Common Council shall annually appoint two police constables, one for the northern district and one for the southern district, who shall attend to the execution of the laws of the corporation, and be subject to the orders of the superintendent of police, under the direction of the mayor. Each of the said constables shall receive for their services the annual sum of two hundred dollars, to be paid quarterly; they shall hold their offices during the pleasure of the Common Council. Section 5. And be it further enacted, That the Common Council shall annually appoint, two police constables, one for the northern district and one for the southern district, who shall attend to the execution of the laws of the corporation, and be subject to the orders of the superintendent of police, under the direction of the mayor. Each of the said constables shall receive for their services the annual sum of two hundred dollars, to be paid quarterly; they shall hold their offices during the pleasure of the Common Council. No police constable shall hold the office of constable for the county;—and if any police constable shall be convicted before the mayor on competent testimony of being an habitual drunkard, and of frequenting tipling shops or houses of ill fame, except upon business appertaining to his office of police constable or other lawful business, such conviction shall be reported by the mayor to the Common Council, who shall thereupon remove him from office; and that the mayor shall, from time to time, nominate to Council such persons as he may deem best qualified to fill the said office of police constables.

Section 6. And be it further enacted, That the said constables shall, in addition to the salary hereby allowed, charge the same fees which are allowed in the said act, entitled "An act for appointing one high constable and two assistant constables," &c.

Section 7. And be it further enacted, That the commissioner of the streets shall be subject to the same penalty for the neglect of any of the duties required of him which is imposed by law on the superintendent of police for neglect of any of his duties.

Section 8. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the superintendent of police to have as well the paved as unpaved streets and public alleys cleaned at least once in each week, and all dirt, filth or nuisances which may incommode the inhabitants removed; and it shall be the duty of each and every person, incorporated society, or public institution, using or occupying in any manner, or for any purpose whatsoever, any house, store, shop, stable, or tenement of any kind, situate on any paved street, lane or alley, in the town of Alexandria, immediately after the fall of every snow, to cause the same to be removed from the footway; and every person who shall neglect to have the same removed, shall, for each six hours they fail therein, (such snow as may fall in the night excepted, and that to be removed by 12 o'clock the succeeding day) forfeit and pay the sum of one dollar, to be recovered as other fines are recoverable in the name of the Common Council of Alexandria.

Section 9. And be it further enacted, That this act shall be in force from and after the passing of the same.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

WAS STOLEN from my waggon in Alexandria, on Saturday night, 28th ult. a Flat Top TRUNK, covered with black leather, about 2 feet 4 inches long, and marked on the top with the letters C. P. in brass nails. It was full packed with my own wearing apparel, and a few books, papers, &c. The books were, 1st volume Tucker's Blackstone; a volume in boards, containing the laws of Virginia, as reported by the revisors to the late assembly; the constitutions of the several states; Wirt's life of Henry; Jefferson's notes; Dobson's Portarch;—with 2 or 3 pamphlets, and several printed documents having relation to the proceedings of the late Virginia legislature. I will give the above reward for the recovery of the property and the conviction of the thief, or forty dollars for the trunk and its contents. Application to be made to John Jackson, Esq who can, if necessary, give a more detailed description.

Fan-Sash Making

METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufactory in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expense in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.

Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as if in town.

Valuable Family Medicines.

JUST received, direct from the proprietors, the following valuable MEDICINES, all of which have been in use for a number of years past, in almost every part of the United States; have been highly patronized by people of the first respectability; and approved by those who have had occasion to make use of them, for the cure of those disorders for which they are severally calculated.

Dr. Lee's Genuine (Windham) Bilious Pills,

Universally known and used throughout the United States as a family medicine. The fame of these pills has become so great, that many have attempted to counterfeit them—to guard against this, the proprietors have procured a stereotype label, and each box of Genuine Lee's Pills will hereafter be enclosed in one of these labels, with these words on the sides: "Lee's Genuine Windham Bilious Pills," and on the end of the label the words, "Samuel Lee, patentee, &c. I. Thompson, agent, joint proprietor," &c. and should any be offered for sale without said label on them the purchaser may be apprised that they are counterfeit.

Dr. Thompson's celebrated Eye Water,

For the cure of inflamed and sore eyes of almost every description. This valuable preparation comes highly recommended from the most respectable sources.—Price 50 and 25 cents a bottle

Dr. Rawson's Genuine Itch Ointment,

A certain and safe cure for that disagreeable complaint, as well as other irruptions of the skin. Price 37½ cents a box.

Dr. Rawson's Anti-Bilious and Stomachic Bitters,

For weakly and infirm constitutions. Price 37½ cents a box.

Hinckley's Infallible Remedy for the Piles,

A most valuable medicine. Price 50 cents a box.

Thompson's Aromatic Tooth Paste,

For whitening and preserving the teeth—it may be used with the greatest safety. Price 50 cents a box.

Specific Drops for the Tooth Ache,

Which, in almost every case, gives instant relief in that distressing complaint. Price 37½ cents a bottle

Cooley's Vegetable Elixir, for Coughs, Asthmas, Consumptions, &c.

A very valuable medicine in those complaints. Price 50 cents a bottle.

For sale, in Alexandria, by Dr. Rich'd H. Little; in Washington City, by Dr. David Olt; in Georgetown, by Dr. John Ott, Otho M. Linthicum & Co. and Nathaniel Jew tt.

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from

LEE's MEDICINE STORE,

No. 45, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions; epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly gratefully to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in
Consumptions	the stomach and
Lowness of spirits	back
Loss of appetite	Indigestion
Impurity of blood	Melancholy
Hysteric affection	Gout in the stomach
Inward weaknesses and debility	Pains in the limbs Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

☞ At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

Fan-Sash Making.

METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufactory in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expence in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.

Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as if in town.

JAMES T. HOLLAND.
